ADMIRABLE NOVEL DOMESTIC LIFE.

Of late years a new and wnolesome tendency has appeared french imaginative literature. A class of writers have appeare who, instead of appealing to morbid passions and depraved tasts have gained a reputation by departing the pure and iscaliny emitions of the heart, by developing the charms of genial and symmetrical characters, and by exhibiting men and women not triumphing over adverse circumstances and social temptations. Of this new school of writers, two conspicuous examples around in the works of Emile Souvestre and Octave Reulines.

The former has already been extensively translated into English ad is not unknown in this country. The latter we propose is stroduce to the readers of The Tununs, by a spirited version.

which has recently appeared in Paris, and has been hailed by both French and Engish critics as perhaps the most striking and distribute work of fiction that appeared in any country during the year 1856. Indeed, since "June Eyre" startled the novel the year 1858. Indeed, since "lane Eyre" startled has now reading world, we hardly remember another production of the hind which, for beauty and interest, can be compared with the The publication of "THE ROMANCE OF A POOR YOUN MAN" was commenced in THE NEW-YORK WEEKL TRIBUNE of last week, and will be regularly continued until completed. CHIEF JUSTICE PARSONS. THEOPHILUS PARSONS. One handsome 12mo, volume, with a Portrait after Stuart.

Price $1.50.

The Publishers offer this work as one of peculiar interest. "Chief-Justice Parsons was," in the language of his successor, Chief-Justice Parker, "for more than thirty years acknowledged as the great man of his time." He was not less eminent and influential as a statesman and as a scholar, than as a lawyer. Facts of much importance in the history of the country are here fully stated for the first time; and numerous anecdotes and letters of distinguished men not only peint him to the life, but give the reader a vivid picture of the time.
